

Gwendolyn E. Redfern

Artist Biography

GWENDOLYN E. REDFERN is a multi-talented artist expressing her talents in pottery, painting, and mixed media collages. She remembers painting as always being a part of her life. She discovered pottery while completing her B.F.A. in painting at East Carolina University in Greenville, North Carolina. Selecting ceramic classes only to fill up her schedule, it became another gift of her creative expression.

Her pottery is known for its sleek designs, carvings, and spectacular glazes. With impeccable craftsmanship, style and design, Gwendolyn molds clay into fine art.

Gwendolyn's oil and watercolor paintings are vivid journeys to other dimensions. She forces her audiences to consider self and spirit and to question the influences of powers greater than our own.

"My art represents my life experiences --hidden secrets of mine, experiences forgotten or wished forgotten. Experiences that move the soul so hard that they entice a warm smile or bring on laughter or evoke many tears." "I believe that I am only a vessel through which energies flow to tell stories of life's journeys...yours and mine."

Gwendolyn E. Redfern is a native of Raleigh, North Carolina. She creates her works of art at the Redfern Fine Art Studio in Durham, North Carolina.

For additional information about Gwendolyn E. Redfern and her artwork, contact

Picture That, LLC

84 Courtland Avenue, Stamford, CT 06902 • 203-977-8203 • www.picture-that.com

"promoting cultural awareness and diversity through the arts"

